

TARGACEPT

Smart People. Compelling Science.

It's easy to be one of the Best Places to Work in Industry for three consecutive years when you employ some of the best people in the industry. Targacept is much more than a small biotech company—it's a team of talented and caring professionals, dedicated to the discovery and development of NNR Therapeutics™. Target indications include Alzheimer's disease, ADHD, major depressive disorder, and cognitive dysfunction in schizophrenia, just to name a few. Our multinational and cross-cultural fabric is a strength that we value as we strive to create an environment that will attract, retain, and motivate the best talent in our industry.
